

STRIKE SITUATION

Mob Gets Beyond Control of the Troops

Albany, N. Y., May 15.—So serious is the situation here tonight over the traction company strike that Governor Eliot postponed a trip to the state institutions, which had been under taken, and returned to the executive mansion. Two thousand armed soldiers are now within the city limits, and more are coming, and 1,600 are in readiness. The streets are thronged with men and women, and the otherwise quiet day terminated in bloodshed. A dramatic element was added to the day's features by the sudden death of Arthur Hoffmann. As long as the traction company does not attempt to move cars or bring in non-union men the crowds on the streets remain good natured, except for taunting the soldiers and police, but the instant an attempt is made to work on the lines or bring non-union men in the crowd becomes frenzied and bloodshed results.

Citizens sabotee armed non-union men with broken limbs and bloody faces, women and children trampled under foot, soldiers maimed with flying missiles and leaders in the crowd beaten with muskets were some of the results at the day.

Mob and militia closed in combat this afternoon, but by the accident of fortune there were no serious casualties. It was the introduction of more non-union men to take the places of striking traction employees that produced the violence. Seventy-five non-union men reached the Union station shortly before 5 o'clock and their delivery at Quail street turn, a mile and a half away, was made with a dash under safety and escort, with the mob resistance in almost every case.

The rays of the setting sun gave glint to busy halcyons, but the long blades, whirled by forbearing hands, seldom descended in serious blows. Several of the mob were knocked down by cornered cavalrymen, but the record does not yet show the score of a single fatality. In the passage through the streets few of the non-unionists escaped the flying brick and stone that were hurled, but only a few were badly hurt. The courage of nearly a dozen men failed to hold the opening, and they sprang from the wagon that carried them to mingle with and be lost in the crowd.

The ride of the non-union men through the city was the dramatic spectacle of the day. At 5 o'clock the Third signal corps, mounted and armed as cavalrymen, formed a hollow square around the non-union men who had just arrived.

Five thousand men tagged at their heels and jammed in around them, and thousands more crowded into the intersecting streets. Fifty policemen formed in cordon about the waiting dragoons and tried to force the crowd back. The street was cleared, but the walls of humanity on the sidewalks held firm and could not be moved.

Into the alley were driven four flat open trucks. The crowd recognized them as the same vehicles that had carried the first batch of strike breakers, and greeted them with groans. Suddenly a side door of the station was thrown open and up all the alleyways toward the waiting teams marched the non-union men. The drivers brought their teams out in the streets, the cavalry closed in around them and the race was on. The police threw themselves across the street in solid phalanx, but the crowd, roaring its threats against the new men, swept over the police and took up the chase. Ahead were thousands more, and with no fear for either heels of horses or blades of steel, they closed in around the cavalrymen. Soon there came a volley of bricks and three of the non-union men shrank from the rear wagon and were lost in the crowd. The flying column dashed into State street for the run up the hill past the capitol. Here the crowd was as dense and desperate as the other, and men plunged in around the galloping horses. One rider, cut off from the crowd, brought his sabre down on the face of one of his antagonists and a line of blood marked where he struck. Two blocks up street three clever military ruses blocked the downtown mob. Two companies of the Tenth Cavalry were concealed in Chapel street, and when the cavalry escort dashed past they ran across State street and quailed the pursuing crowd with fixed bayonets. The new line wavered and broke on one flank, but in the meantime the movement was successful. But the non-union men were not yet free. Smaller crowds had gathered at various points along the route to the barn and the alley with stones, and when the non-union men rushed past there was another wild scene. There was another scene at the barn, where thousands more had assembled. The infantry repeatedly charged into the crowd, substituting butt for bayonet, and after much effort passage was opened for the scurrying cavalry and it was safe inside the enclosure.

Sixteen of the non-union men were injured during the ride, and many of them stunned, weak and scared, had to be helped from the wagons. Of the sixteen injured men only one was sent to the hospital. He was wounded in the arm and head, and the surgeons say he was shot. The strikers say that eighteen non-union men deserted during the ride and less than fifty were safely landed in the barn.

In a hollow square of infantry, protected by lines of pickets that reached into every business street, including an outskirt line in a form that encompassed all, the Traction tower wagon was moved out of the barn this evening, and two hours were spent in separating the trolley wires. A heavy force of guardsmen and the protective measures seemed to awe the crowds that surged around the outer skirmish line and there was no disorder. The soldiers were feared, but no one offered violence. The city is quiet at midnight. Both the strikers and the railroad people claim that there has been no further attempt at negotiations for a settlement.

The company says it will proceed to move cars tomorrow under guard of the soldiers, and General Rabe, in command of the troops, says he will assist to the best of his ability with his 2,000 troops.

Marshall, the non-union motorman who was injured yesterday by the mob, is very low and will probably die before morning.

Malaria.

The people who live in low, swampy countries seem to take it for granted that Malaria, Fevers and Ague are necessary evils. They apparently do not realize that these diseases are slowly but surely sapping their general vitality. These intermittent fevers, malaria, fever and ague, swamp fever, jungle fever, etc., are the most persistent enemies of the human race. If the aggregate of harm they do could be realized, they would be fought as plagues.

These diseases are the result of weakness, of poisoned, microbial blood, and it was long ago demonstrated that Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic was an absolute specific; a sure cure. It has been conquering and preventing these diseases for nearly half a century.

It has been thoroughly demonstrated that the insects which infest new countries and low swampy localities are vehicles for carrying disease germs. If your blood is pure and healthy you need have little fear of these. But if your blood is bad it is not in condition to resist the poisonous stings, and as a result the germs of disease obtain a footing.

Protect yourself by using Dr. Harter's Iron Tonic. It will not only drive out but keep out malaria and other fevers of like kind. It has done it in so many thousands of cases that you can not doubt.

TO ORGANIZE DEMOCRATIC LEAGUE.

Call Issued by Chairman Robert J. Ray.

Woodward, Okla., May 10, 1901.

At an informal meeting of a few Democrats in the city of Guthrie on the 6th day of March, 1901, it was the consensus of opinion that the formation of a Democratic club, composed of active Democrats from all parts of the territory, with permanent headquarters and open club rooms at some central point, would be of material assistance in the upbuilding of the Democratic party of the territory.

A temporary organization was effected and a committee appointed to devise some plan of organization. That committee agreed, that with an annual membership fee of ten dollars, such a club organization could be perfected and permanent club rooms maintained, and recommended that a meeting of the Democrats of the territory be called for that purpose.

Now, therefore, in compliance with the recommendation of the committee a meeting of all the Democrats of the territory, who feel interested in the perfection of such an organization, is hereby called to be held at Oklahoma City on the 18th day of June, 1901, at 2 o'clock p. m.

R. J. Ray, Chairman.
W. C. Cardwell, Secretary.
(All Democratic papers of the territory, please copy.)

To get something for nothing is rather a hard proposition, but we offer you the Live Stock Inspector, the subscription price of which is $1.00 per year (and worth every cent of it); and the Weekly Leader, subscription price 50 cent per year (and cheap at that); both papers one year for only $1.00. This is certainly full value for the money, but, in addition, each number contains, beginning at an early date, absolutely without extra cost to you, is the only stock paper published on the range and that it captured a grand prize at the Paris exposition. Sample copies sent on request.

Remember the Live Stock Inspector excellent serial and short stories, of equal interest with those published in the popular magazines. This supplement will, alone, afford you a dollars worth of entertaining reading.

Death From Blood Poison.
Oliver Leland, an aged carpenter, died this morning from the effects of blood poisoning resulting from a silver injury in his hand. He is a member of the Congregational church. The funeral service will be conducted by Mrs. W. M. Jenkins.

The greatest skin specialist in America originated the formula for Banner Salve. For all skin diseases, all cuts or sores, and for piles, it's the most healing medicine. Beware of substitutes. J. N. Wallace.

The Royal Buffet now serves a ten o'clock luncheon to its patrons every evening. The new management has made several new and needed improvements in this popular resort.

Meeting of the Oklahoma Press Association.

The annual meeting of the Oklahoma Press Association will be held at Blackwell, Okla., on Tuesday, May 21, for the purpose of transacting such business as may properly come before the association.

This meeting of the association promises to be one of the most important to newspaper publishers ever held in its history and every newspaper publisher and editor is urged to be present. The glad band of welcome is extended to all, whether active members or not. We want to make the newspaper fraternity of Oklahoma a mutual benefit association, whereby the business of publishing a newspaper may be a profitable one, and no other way is more prudent than a compact and well regulated organization of those interested in the business.

Magnetism--What Is It?

Magnetism, the vital force of the universe, is the life principle of the human body, and holds the same relation to man as the sun's rays to the vegetation, in fact they are identical, one and the same, expressed in different forms.

Now, as all disease is the result or consequence of the loss of vital force, it stands to the reason that if you restore said vital force to the system until it regains its normal healthy condition, no disease or physical ailment can long exist in the same.

Life and Health Depends on the Vitality and Circulation of the Blood. . . .

For pure blood and vigorous circulation to all parts of the body is perfect health. But perfect circulation and health cannot be produced at once. As the blood becomes vitalized and enriched with the life principle it has the power to absorb into itself impurities that have been deposited into the tissues (thereby causing all kinds of ailments and abnormal growths, which cause suffering and deformities,) carrying them to the proper organs, where they are voided from the system.

When this process has gone on long enough to purify the tissues of the body as well as the blood, then and only then can come perfect health. Vital Magnetism not only enriches the blood and tissues of the body, but it will vitalize the manufacturing organs of the body, causing to be produced new and vital blood direct from food consumed.

Magnetism is the only known element which will give the blood its normal power, life and energy, hence carry it to every blood vessel and tissue of the body. When we stand on the damp sidewalk or ground we are magnetically connected with the great negative earth, which robs us of our positive power, life and warmth, leaving us in a cold, negative condition.

The only way to restore the circulation is to revitalize the blood.

There is no medicine which can do this, medical skill cannot warm the feet with drugs. Magnetism will.

An Open Statement

Suggestive Therapeutics will cure where medicine has failed. For twenty years I have practiced and taught successfully the art of healing by these methods, and for a much longer period I have devoted myself to the study of mental and physical relations in health and disease.

I was the first to lecture before Harvard University on the therapeutic value of psychic force. By invitation I then gave these lectures before Yale, Tulane and other prominent institutions of learning in this country. Since then these and other foremost colleges have established chairs for proper instruction in this science, and it is now recognized by all reputable schools as an established and valuable branch of medicine. Many of its most eminent practitioners are my pupils.

I shall employ no assistants, but give every patient my personal attention and treatment; hence I can take only a limited number at any one time.

I positively guarantee the permanent cure of liquor, tobacco, morphine, cocaine and all drug habits.

Suggestive therapeutics are also unfailing in enabling operations without the use of anaesthetics. From extracting a tooth to amputating a limb, its use is preferable to drugs in destroying pain without any of the dangerous or disagreeable after effects.

FREE DIAGNOSIS You do not have to tell me your ailments or symptoms. I tell you the disease and organ without patient speaking.

A Positive Guarantee

To all persons taking my treatment, I give an absolutely positive and unqualified guarantee that unless I bring about the desired result, and effect a cure, their money will be refunded
